HSL acquired by Advanced Computer Software

Healthy Software has been acquired by Advanced Computer Software Plc, (AIM:ASW, "ACS", "the Group"), a leading provider of software and IT services to the Primary Care sector.

The addition of HSL and Crosscare to the Group builds on and complements ACS's own End-of-Life & iNurse solutions, and the integration of Crosscare into the Group's nationally available End-of-Life Register will enhance both products and provide a more comprehensive national solution.

Rob England, who remains as Managing Director of HSL, said "We see this as a very positive step in moving Crosscare to the next level. It will have a far wider audience and we will have access to more resources and opportunities as part of a fast growing innovative group of companies".

Vin Murria, Chief Executive of ACS, said: "HSL is well established and has built a solid reputation in the important and growing palliative care sub-sector. The addition of Crosscare extends our offering by enhancing the range and scope of the solutions we now offer to healthcare professionals and organisations."
